To whom it may concern,

Membership: FF-2025-045-188204 · Member: Danielle Brooks · Home club: Tottenham.

I am writing to give formal notice of immediate cancellation of my FlexFit membership.

I previously emailed enquiries@flexfit.co.uk on 16 February 2026, that is, before the 12-month anniversary of my joining date, but I have today been told that notice should have gone to your address. I have been unable to find any reference to this address on the FlexFit website's cancellation page or in my joining paperwork beyond a single sentence in the small print of clause 14, which I did not realise was different from the general enquiries email.

I do not consider that I have validly auto-renewed for a further 12 months, given (a) the genuine attempt I made to cancel within the notice window, and (b) the obscurity of the requirement to use a specific address that is not promoted anywhere in the customer journey.

Please cancel my membership today, with no further amounts being collected. If your position is otherwise, please confirm in writing.

Yours faithfully,

Danielle Brooks
